 the guys.

To a really great and smart friend, Andrew's best

Jennifer,

Let's see . . . you want a whole page? Well, here goes! Becky is such a GEEK! No!

Actually, she's pretty cool, even though I'm sure ya don't know who she is! Well, Jennifer, I want ~~you~~ to have a "super-dandy summer vacation!" My special trademark is :  Are ya gonna miss me? I'll miss you! But luckily, we live in the same subdivision! Sorry - this is pretty sloppy, but what can a person expect when another ~~person~~ person is riding on the bus when they're writing in a yearbook? (He, he, he!) Well, someday (I'm absolutely positive), I'm gonna be FAMOUS! Yep! And you'll have this note in this yearbook to show to everyone in the world! And, ya don't have to worry - I'll remember you, Jennifer Robertson, and I'll give the world a speech right before I give you 5000000000 of my fortune (approx. 3 million $!). Seriously! Isn't that just mega AWESOME? (He, he) But, even if I'm not as famous as I predicted, or if I'm not really famous at all, ANYWAY if I don't get to marry my macho man, Pee Wee Herman, I'll still remember you. For Always!

Love,

Kelcie
Lynnette
Hancock

P.S. Good luck
w/ the guys!

Jesus
♡
you!

ELKHORN MIDDLE DIMENSIONS

Frankfort, Kentucky 1988-89

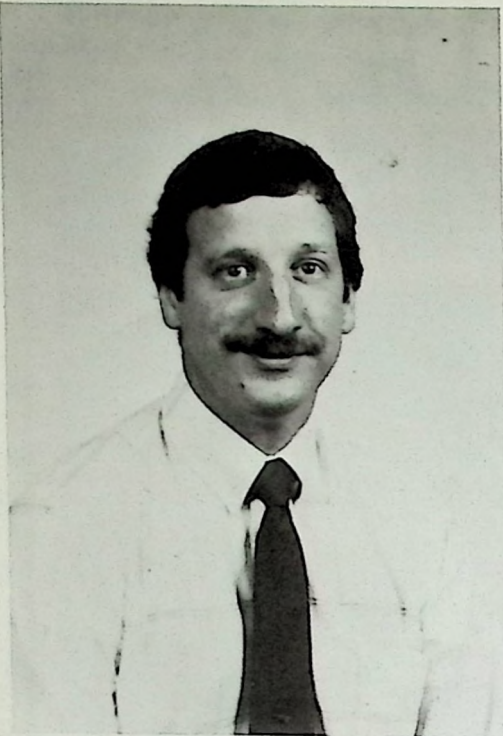

We are a family of many dimensions —
A holding of one.
Though all the parts may not agree,
The same pertains to that of the sun.

If all the colors of sunlight became blue,
A window, casting a tinge of blue on all
Would remain — a filter to remove all other shades.
The inevitable, stolen range of sight watches.
Everything tinted and appearing the same
Not able to see any other way.

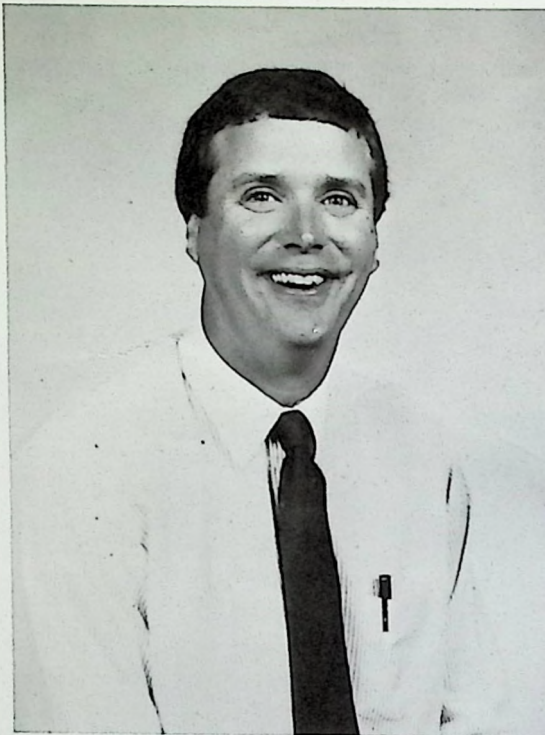

No, the diverse colors cling.
White light shows the true picture
Views from seventy times seven different shades.

We're a family of DIMENSIONS.
Each occupying their own seat
As we travel down life's highway,
To eye the passing scenery
Or the road beneath our feet
From our own shade of separation,
Our perspectives, never complete.

Mr. David Simpson, Principal
"The hardest part of my job is dealing with students or adults who are angry and unwilling to accept responsibility for their actions. My favorite part of this job is coming to school every day and having the opportunity to work with teachers, students and their families involved with Elkhorn Middle School."

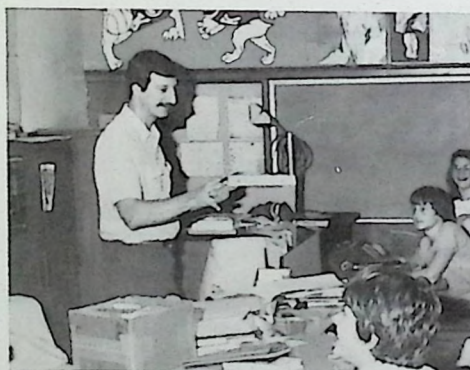

Mr. Jeff Stamper, Assistant Principal
"The hardest part of my job is keeping up with all the paperwork and my favorite part of the job is seeing kids doing good things and accomplishing things."

... in the Office

Mrs. Marshall

Both Mr. Simpson and Mr. Stamper used to be teachers at Elkhorn.

MRS. GRAHAM

Pals Of Peers

MRS. EVANS

Pals of Peers is an organization consisting of 6th, 7th, and 8th grade students at E.M.S. The members of POP were chosen by students school wide by a survey. Since receiving leadership training at two separate retreats in Nov. and Jan., students have returned to work in task forces to help improve the school. The sponsors of POP are Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Graham.

Mrs. Rigsby

Elkettes

Mrs. Lovely-Dowd

Elkettes is an organization of 8th grade girls. Mrs. Lovely is the sponsor. The Elkettes have sponsored many things; a bake sale, val-a-grams, Christmas grams, and a food drive for the Food pantry which has collected over 1,000 cans. The Elkettes have been going for several years.

Being an eighth grader has been fun,
 But our eighth grade year is finally done,
 We studied hard and had some laughs,
 Gosh this year, it went so fast!
 The football games have all been won,
 Boy, those games were very fun.
 The basketball season reached new heights,
 No team gave up without a fight!
 The academic teams were awfully smart,
 And gave the year a fantastic start.
 The music groups have been a blast,
 From band to chorus, the music always lasts.
 My friends, it's time to say goodbye,
 See ya next year at Franklin County High!
